

After ransacking the Building From Top to Bottom—In the South One of the Men Laid His Hand on the Woman and Recognized as a Neighbor.

PERDUE, O., Sept. 8.—Thursday evening about 9 o'clock occurred a crime which among the many bloody deeds of Adams county stands without a parallel.

John Crothers, a well known farmer who lives near Louisville, Little hamlet four miles northwest of this place, was about to retire, when some one called him to the window, saying his brother was hurt, and asked him to come at once. Before he could reply the door was burst open with a rail, and he was seized by three masked men. Crothers is a large, muscular man, and struggled desperately. He grabbed his shotgun, and it was wrestled from him before he could use it. The men threw him to the floor and stamped upon him until he became insensible, after which they robbed him of all the money on his person, about $85, and ransacked the house from top to bottom, taking everything of value. The fiends then bound the helpless man, and laid him in several places and poured cold oil on the bed clothes and set fire to the flames, leaving him to perish in the flames.

Shortly after their departure he regained consciousness and managed to roll himself out from the yard, and lay watching his property burn. The light was seen from the Louisville church, where prayer meeting was being held, and a party on the fire tender assistance. They stumbled over Crothers, who was again unconscious, and carried him to the residence of a neighbor near Lexington, where assistance was rendered. The wounds are serious, though not necessarily fatal.

In the scuffle one of the masks worn by one of the men was torn from his face, and Crothers recognized David Matthews, a farmer living near May Hill. Matthews was immediately brought before Judge J. W. Mason. At the preliminary trial Crothers swore positively as to the identity of Matthews as one of the assailants. Matthews claims he is able to prove an alibi.

Justice Mason bound him over to court in the sum of $1,000, and bond was given.

Excitement runs high at Louisville, and there is every prospect of a cracking if any clue to the perpetrators of the crime is found. The residence of Crothers, together with its contents, was totally destroyed.

McCauley is Dead Condition.

BOY ST. LOUIS, Miss. Sept. 8.—Dick Roach, Jas. Colville, Ed. McCarry and "Honest John" Kelly, Jack McAniff and other intimate friends of the late McCauley's place Friday to take careful note of the light-weight's condition. Myer's antagonist did not show up favorably. He claims to be in the hospital at weight, but if so his programme was peculiar. He worked terribly for a man on the eve of a fight.

Ordered to Clean Up.

HANDBURY, Sept. 8.—A notice has been issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. to all freight agents and officers who have charge of the stations relative to the dispatch of the cars along the entire line. It is the intention to make this work as thorough as possible, so that in the event of cholera reaching this station the disease will not gain a foothold on the road.

No Time for Rejoicing.

HANDBURY, Sept. 8.—The anniversary of the victory of Sedan, a day which is usually marked by great public rejoicings, passed here in the gloomiest manner. Except for decorations at the post office and the railway station, not a flag was displayed. The churches were filled with people, and they said the cholera epidemic might cease.

Joined the Alliance.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 8.—James P. Ligate, the noted republican leader of Kansas, has joined the Farmers' Alliance, and will take the stump for the people's party. He will be the chief speaker at a people's party rally next Saturday, when he will explain why he has left the republican party and why he has joined the people's party.

Couldn't Agree on a Site.

COLUMBIA, O., Sept. 8.—The commission to locate the site of the new Indiana asylum adjourned Friday afternoon without having reached any decision. Another meeting will be held next week, either at Columbus or on the route. The arrival of Friday sportsmen, come to see the triple events, was very large, running up well into the hundreds.

Ransacked Quarters.

IN HOC SIGNO VINCES.

A Word to Republicans.

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of a national Republican press. The Republican who reads or cherishes his paper to support a Democratic paper to the exclusion of one of his own party newspapers is a traitor to the Republican cause.

Continuously subscribed to by the National Republican League.

J. B. CLARKSON, President.

A. B. HUMPHREY, Secretary.

Our enemies have made our campaign for us. We have deliberately avowed our principles. We go deliberately to the people calling for the Republicans that the country is clean, honorable, business-like and highly successful administration. We go without cause is a business injury to every citizen, and that there is no occasion for a change. The Democrats want this country to have an immediate and absolute change. They want to repeat the McKinley Tariff at once. They denounce a Protective Tariff of any sort or description; refuse to let Tariff legislation have the slightest reference to the defense of the American workmen's wages; declare that Washington and Madison, and even Andrew Jackson, didn't understand the Constitution, and that nobody but themselves and Jefferson Davis ever did; denounce everything but a pure Tariff for revenue only as unconstitutional; want to get rid of our reciprocity, and demand a return to wildest banking.

Hold them to the doctrine. Never have they rushed so plainly and palpably upon their fate since the memorable week in 1864, when their declaration that the war for the Union was a failure was instantly answered by the victorious thunders of Sherman's guns from Atlanta, and the triumphant cheers of Sheridan's troops from the valley. Let us rise up and go forward. They have been blinded again to their own destruction, and are delivered into our hands.

Don't wait till the cholera reaches Maysville before you adopt measures of prevention. Do it now.

What a pity it is that the McKinley bill cannot prevent the importation of cholera, as it does many other foreign pauper products.

Proline in England has been paid at the rate of $1.82 per ton since last September. When we remember that the lowest sale ever proposed to the Amalgamated Association of Iron Workers in the Pittsburgh district was $4.50 per ton, we may be able to understand why the Free-trade press have suddenly ceased all discussion of the Homestead strike.

This rice and sugar planters of Louisiana are said to be contemplating the formation of an organization whose object shall be to secure the election of Protectionist representatives from the state in Congress. There is nothing surprising in this when it is remembered that six-sevenths of the sum paid by the United States in sugar benefits during the past fiscal year went to the sugar planters of Louisiana. The only surprising thing is that they have not done so before.

FINISHES TRAINING.

Corbett leaves for New Orleans, the home of the battle with ASBURY PARK, Sept. 4.—Corbett did more work Friday than at any time for a month past. In the morning he played baseball, ran races and wrestled. Then he took an hour's rest for dinner and a good rubbing. In the afternoon he went to work in the gymnasium. A great crowd of people gathered around, and as it was Corbett's last day at his quarters the doors were thrown open and they were given access to gratify their curiosity. He worked at the wrist machine and pulleys and punched the bag for an hour or more, and then he had another bout with the Vag and Dally and wound up the day's work with half a dozen games of hand-ball.

The plans of the Corbett party have been altered materially. Instead of going to Jersey City Saturday noon, they will go direct from this place to Washington, connecting with the Corbett special at that point. Corbett sent a message to his mother Friday night saying that he would not be in his life and that he would surely be in it. Almost everybody in Asbury Park seems to be confident in his ability to win the battle.

Manager Brady received a letter Friday saying that Sullivan had prepared a speech which he proposed to deliver in the seventh round, provided Corbett did not fight to suit him. In speaking of the matter Friday night Corbett said: "I will never give him a chance to make a speech as long as I am able to fight."

When Corbett leaves his quarters at noon Friday the people here propose to give him a great send-off. A band has been engaged and there is to be a formal hand-shaking all around.

RETALIATION TOLLS.

Figures Showing the Value of Commerce That Passes Through the St. Mary's Fall Canal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The president's proclamation, imposing a retaliation toll of twenty cents a ton on Canadian produce passing through the St. Mary's Fall canal, has been put into effect smoothly and without friction, and the treasury officials here have received no objection from Marquette or from any other point leading them to anticipate trouble. The report of the chief of the bureau of statistics on the internal commerce of the United States during the past fiscal year shows that the value of the commerce through the St. Mary's canal increased from $25,000,000 in 1891 to over $125,000,000 in 1901.

During the season of 225 days, during which the canal remained open in 1901, over 10,000 vessels passed through it, of which 7,500 were steamers. The precise number of Canadian vessels is not clearly shown. The shipment of wheat (including the crop for Manitoba) for 1901 amounted to 25,310,000 bushels against 16,217,000 bushels in the preceding year.

Grain to Sullivan at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 4.—The special train carrying John L. Sullivan to New Orleans, stopped at the Grand Central depot, Friday night. The homage that was paid to the champion of champions, as chroniclers of the arena fondly call him, was as full and unreserved as ever given a statesman or heroic soldier. Ten thousand people drawn from every rank and station of life, pressed into the vast station and surged and weaved until every available inch was taken.

The President's Circular in London.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—President Harrison's circular relative to the quarantining of vessels carrying immigrants finds great approval and even admiration here. There is some feeling of injury also that the American law enables the government to take such prompt and thorough steps to stop the importation of cholera.

Murderer Reprieved.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 4.—William F. Reck, who was sentenced to be hanged next Thursday for the murder of the aged Nipech couple, last November, has been informed that the governor had granted him a reprieve of sixty days. The reprieve is granted in order to get his case before the board of pardons.

The Coal Creek Trouble.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 4.—The war troubles are at an end in the Coal Creek mining region. The last case to be disposed of by the civil authorities, aided by the military officials, was that of Charles J. Allen, who was Thursday acquitted. There are now thirty-six miners in jail here and twenty at Clinton awaiting trial.

Craig Will Likely Hang.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4.—The probability is that Murderer Edward McCarthy's sentence will be commuted to life imprisonment by the pardon board, Member Kuhn, to whom the case was submitted, having reported favorably on it. Member Minor reports adversely in Craig's case and the latter will likely hang.

Married in Haste.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 4.—Dr. Isaac, the Indian medicine man whose recent marriage to Miss Spaulding created much comment, has deserted his bride, who will apply for a divorce. A letter has been received from Detroit stating that he has a wife and child there.

London Bank Suspense.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The London and General bank, limited, William Gann, secretary, No. 30 Budge Row, E. C., has been suspended payment. The bank, which was founded in 1862, never inspired much confidence.

Inside in a Cemetery.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 4.—Henry Brock, murdered by arsenic, between his wife and graves in St. John's cemetery at St. Bernard, Friday evening. Financial troubles, no employment and melancholia were the cause.

At Hoffman's Island.

QUARTER, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The storage passengers of the steamship Galia, now in quarantine, were put aboard the steamer W. J. Gilmore, and transported to Hoffman's Island Friday morning.

A COWARD.

Talton Hall, the Desperado and Killer of Many Men.

When He Meets Death Face to Face on the Gallows Breaks Down.

Thousands of People See the Drop Fall—A Long Speech Looked For from the Desperate Man—Last Hour of a Crime That Lacks Romance.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 8.—Talton Hall, the Kentucky desperado, was safely hanged at Wise courthouse, at noon Friday.

At 9:30 a. m. there were 3,000 people pouring into the village from every direction to get a glimpse of a man after death who has become so notorious. By noon there were thousands more.

Talton Hall, the condemned man, usually noted for his bravery, broke down completely and stood a coward in the shadow of the gallows. He had stood in front of showering bullets, but grim death, the antagonist of life, had too many terrors for him.

A tempting breakfast prepared by his sister was placed before him about 7 o'clock, but he refused to eat. He drank a cup of coffee and then called for whiskey. A drink was given him, but it had little effect.

Guards were on duty around the jail and in the vicinity of the courthouse all night. Outposts of three men were stationed on each road leading into the town during the night, and every man who came in was searched, and all found to carry a Winchester or pistol, such weapons were confiscated.

Hall's Crimes.

The crime for which Talton Hall suffered the extreme penalty of the law Friday was one of the most atrocious murders ever perpetrated in this section. On July 15, 1901, he killed his brother-in-law, John H. Hall, by a short time before had been appointed a special policeman of the town of Norfolk, Wise county, Va. Hall had taken into custody Mike Bates, a desperate character of that region for the theft of a wagon. Bates was taken to his prisoner down the railroad, Talton Hall came across the field, diagonally from the town, and overtook him. He demanded the release of the prisoner, which Hinton, of course, refused. Before Hinton had time to draw his weapon or say anything further, Hall pulled out a .38-caliber pistol and shot him, killing him instantly. Hall sat there staring at the body, and after going a short distance, turned into the woods and made their escape before pursuit was organized.

Next day Hall was at Coburn, whence he went to Knoxville. He remained in Southern Virginia several weeks and then went back through Norfolk. Big Game was killed there, where he stayed all night, registering at the hotel. Then he went to Gray'sville and Staunton in Memphis, where he was subsequently arrested. Hall claimed on his trial that he had not seen Hinton before that night, which was possibly true; but it is not believed that the murderer's only motive was the result of Hinton to release his prisoner. Hall had eloped with a married woman named Sarah, who was the daughter of Hinton.

Shortly afterward Sarah was assassinated, in a way pretty certain by the hand of Talton Hall. Hinton said he had sworn to kill the man who murdered his brother-in-law, and it is pretty certain that he had the advantage of the fact of Hinton having been under arrest to pick a quarrel with him and kill him.

After a stay of several months in Memphis, he was arrested and returned to Norfolk, Va., where he was brought to trial in the early spring, and convicted of murder in the first degree. He was sentenced to hang on the gallows after his sentence, and before he had time to begin his appeal.

His counsel took an appeal to the supreme court, where the death sentence was affirmed. Hall was then taken to the gallows, where he was hanged, and his body was buried in the same place.

While out scouting one day he encountered a Union soldier in the town. The men both halted, and before the soldier recovered from his astonishment Hall threw up his gun and shot him through the head. Refusing to be taken into custody, he fled, and was later captured by the soldiers.

He was then taken to the gallows, where he was hanged, and his body was buried in the same place.
